That Was Then . . . This Is Now

What's it all about?

Twenty years of memories! Yearbooks have a way of capturing those special moments that might otherwise be forgotten. This year, we have tried to highlight the events which have taken place around Eastern Randolph. At the same ime, in recognition of our school's 20th anniversary, we have tried to take a quick glance at the past two decades of our school's history.

In searching for an appropriate theme or this year's book, we looked for one that would include both our past and present memories of Eastern Randolph. After a lot of brainstorming and consideration, we have chosen the theme "That was Then... THIS IS NOW." We hope that you will enjoy and experience each page of this book, as we have enjoyed and experienced putting it together. May the next two decades at Eastern Randolph be as successful as the last two! Happy 20th Anniversary ER!

Hard Work and Dedication Pays off for Jane Rhodes

"Above all else, the teacher's role is to instill a love of learning which goes beyond the years of a formal education."

- Jane Rhodes

Mrs. Rhodes greets her class with a smile.

1987-1988 has certainly been an exciting year for Jane Rhodes. Mrs. Rhodes, who has taught English at Eastern Randolph for eleven years, was named Randolph County teacher of the Year. In addition to this honor, the senior class has chosen her to be the recipient of this year's Links dedication.

A graduate of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro, Rhodes is a member of the NCAE, NEA and Alpha Delta Kappa Gamma educational sorority. She serves as senior class advisor and as a mentor teacher. Prior to teaching at Eastern, she taught at Grimsley. High School in Greensboro from 1974-1976. Her first teaching position was at East Surry High School in Pilot Mountain from 1973-1974. Mrs. Rhodes is married and has two children, Katle 9 and Alex 6.

In regard to Mrs. Rhodes' teaching, Kelli Smith, a former student said. "Mrs. Rhodes' humor and comtemporary outlook makes English enjoyable and keeps us awake." Mr. Whitley, principal, said of Mrs. Rhodes, "I took great pleasure in recommending Jane Rhodes as Teacher of the Year. Mrs Rhodes has many outstanding qualities that enhance not only the education of her students but the professional development of her fellow teachers as well." Congratulations Mrs. Rhodes!

Spotlights New Faces

ER

ER welcomed three new faces this year: Ms. Teresa Shaw, Mrs. Leeann Cronk, and Mr. Jimmy Hart. Ms. Shaw, better known as 'Coach Shaw," currently lives in Burlington, N.C. She attended Pembroke State University where she majored in mathematics. She taught several different levels of math courses this year. Along with teaching math, she coached jayvee girls basketbail and girls track. She also assisted with varsity girls basketbail.

Mrs Leeann Cronk, a recent graduate from Appalachian State University, originally came to ER to do her student teaching with Mr. Alien in the Science Department. Once her student teaching assignment was finished she became a full-time teacher replacing Mrs. Confer second semester. Mrs. Cronk taught chemistry, physics, and physical science courses this year. She also served as sponsor for the Health Careers club

Coach Jimmy Hart attended Elon College. He taught a variety of classes at ER this year including. American citizenship physical science, and Advanced P.E. Before coming to ER Coach. Hart coached boys basketball for three years at Northwood High School in Pittsboro. N.C. After spending a year at the coast he decided to return to the ER area to teach and coach varsity boys basketball.

Friends

Julia Burch and Neill Kivett, new teachers at ER this year were certainly not strangers. Both Ms. Burch and Mr. Kivett were recent graduates of Eastern Randolph High School. Ms Burch graduated from ER in 1983 and Mr. Kivett in 1982. Ms Burch attended UNC-G where she majored in English. She taught senior English along with advising the Journalism class this year. In addition to teaching, Ms. Burch sponsored the jayvee cheerleading squad.

Mr Kivett graduated from Lenoir-Rhyne College. A former baseball and football stand-out at ER, Mr Kivett went on to play baseball and football at LR. He majored in social studies. This year at ER he taught American citizenship. His coaching responsibilities included: jayvee football, jayvee baseball and assisting with the varsity football team. He was also a sponsor for the Pep Club.

Eastern's Own Touch of Sweden

This year Eastern Randolph was fortulate to have Ms. Christin Hammarqvist as in exchange student. Christin, 17 years old, is a native of northern Sweden. She was hosted by the Pressler family during her stay in North Carolina. Christin plans to return to Sweden where she will pursue a career as a lawyer.

When asked about life in the United states compared to life in northern sweden. Christin mentioned several nteresting facts. In general she viewed american people as being more friendly and easier to talk to than people in Europe "In Sweden you just do not walk down the street and speak to strangers," and Christin She also enjoyed the shopping malls, drive-thru fast food estaurants, the N.C. weather, and celebrating. Thanksgiving and falloween, which she was unfamiliar with antil visiting the U.S.

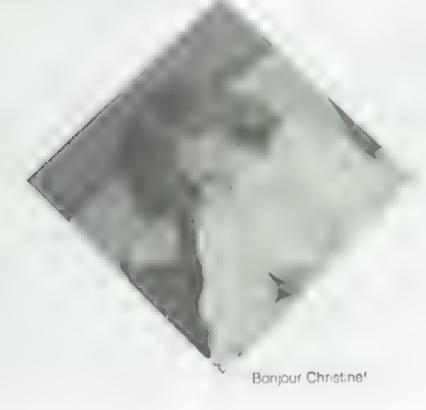

In Sweden, Christin explained that eenagers have much less free time than a America. She spent approximately hirty-two hours a week in school and studied several hours at night. She commented on one interesting difference between American students and Swedish ones. She said, "They work too much here." She was very surprised to see American students working part-time obs. One similarity between the two countries was that the teenagers in Sweden like to go out dancing on the weekends and have fun just like American teenagers.

BEHIND THE BOOK

The Yearbook Staff began its work in uly, long before school opened in lagust. Environmental Pictures were aken July 14th and 15th, which meant hat Yearbook members were hard at work assisting the photographers. The innual ad sales were kicked off in July is so.

Once school began there was never a full moment in room B-8. The staff attended a Hunter Publishing workshop in Greensboro in September. Many long tours of hard work after school and on weekends were experienced until March when the book was complete! Once the final deadline was in the mail to the publishing company, staff members were hard at work on next years theme spring sports, and end of the year sales Everyone waited anxiously for the books to arrive in May. A special dedication ceremony celebrating ER's 20th Anniversary was held in the gymonice the books arrived safely at ER. Editors this year were Crystal Coley and Lisa Passarini. The staff was advised by Ms. Jennifer Clark.
